

Collin Clyne

Hello, I'm Collin.

Originally from New Ulm, Minnesota, I've lived and worked around Minneapolis since 2017. I have a love for print, an affinity for type, and an eye for detail. Specializing in brand identity, studio photography, editorial design, and production, I use design and strategy as tools to solve problems and tell stories.

I love playing darts, the Timberwolves are my favorite team, and my ideal vacation is camping in the woods.

on the following pages

Senior Designer, Catchfire 2021–2025

Designed and produced a wide range of materials within a small, fast-paced team, including advertising, production, print collateral, social and digital graphics, brand identities, and illustration. Worked closely with team members to develop concepts, maintain brand consistency, and deliver polished creative across multiple platforms.

Senior Designer, E&M Consulting 2017–2021

Created and designed magazine layouts for more than 50 organizations and associations nationwide, many producing multiple issues per year. Worked within established brand guidelines while also partnering with new clients to rebrand or develop entirely new publications. Handled full print-production setup, including file preparation, design and layout, spec sheets, and coordination with printers to proof and finalize projects. In addition to print, contributed design work for web, email, and social media.

— Winner of an Apex 2020 award for magazine design and layout (QRCA Views Magazine).

Designer/Photographer, Fatwood Studio 2017–Present

Fatwood is a design and photo studio I started myself back in 2017 as a creative outlet in my free time. We specialize in brand identity and product photography. We work closely with our clients to understand their needs and deliver customized services that help them stand out from their competitors. We've worked with a variety of clients including 56 Brewing, Cue Design, Ice Camp Outfitters, Caribou Coffee, and Target.
